The Chemical Fabrics & Film Association Inc. (CFFA) is an international trade association representing manufacturers of polymer-based fabric and film products used in industries like building and construction, contract upholstery, automotive, healthcare, and many others. The CFFA is organized by end-use markets, and the members of CFFA who belong to the Performance Products Division manufacture chemical fabrics and film used in numerous applications—just one of which is vinyl pool liners. Industries across the globe rely on these certified polymer-based products for their durability, versatility, and lasting value to make an array of products better.
